Healthcare Technical Aids

ONAAPH offers a comprehensive range of sanitary technical aids designed to enhance the comfort and autonomy of individuals with specific needs, including ostomy bags and anti-bedsore mattresses.

OSTOMY BAGS

Urostomy Bag

The urostomy bag collects urine after urostomy. The device adheres securely around the stoma to ensure hygienic management of urinary secretions.

Ileostomy Bag

Collects intestinal waste following an ileostomy procedure. It is secured around the stoma to facilitate hygienic management of fecal discharge.

Colostomy Bag

The colostomy bag is used to collect stool after a colostomy. It is designed to be attached to the skin around the surgical opening (stoma), enabling hygienic management of bodily waste.

PROTECTIVE PASTE (Stoma paste)

A specialized barrier product that seals the peristomal area surrounding the stoma, protects the skin from irritation and maceration, and enhances the adhesion of stoma devices.

ANTI-BEDSORE MATTRESS (anti-decubitus mattresses)

Designed to prevent pressure ulcers by alternating the pressure exerted on the skin. It uses a motorized system to automatically adjust support zones, improving blood circulation and reducing the risk of pressure ulcers.
